

many users accessing its Gmail service was due to an overload of servers that handle Web requests.

It "slightly underestimated the load" on the request routers after taking some servers offline for routine upgrades.

S'pore project in Tianjin

TWO leading Singapore transport organisations will help to develop an environment-friendly transport system for the Tianjin Eco-City, it was announced yesterday.

The Land Transport Authority Academy will play a policy advisory role in the development of land transport systems for the Eco-City, while Singapore Technologies Kinetics will conduct a feasibility study on the implementation of a green public transport network, said

Sino-Singapore Tianjin Eco-City Investment and Development.

More on faked audio clip

BANGKOK: The Thai government will re-broadcast Prime Minister Abhisit Vejjajiva's weekly programme on national radio and explain how his audio clip was altered to embarrass the government, Prime Minister's